I am Avantage's Project Management Office (PMO) Lead, responsible for managing and overseeing all projects for one of our primary client accounts. I facilitate team responsibilities, capture meaningful metrics, and clear impediments that prevent the team from operating efficiently.

I have been a key member of the Avantage team for 2 years, and during this time I have been fortunate to work with organizations including American Logistics and Hydrafacial. My strong interpersonal skills have been instrumental in facilitating team bonding, and I have successfully built out the PMO with the goal of driving value for clients.

I pride myself on utilizing my experience to take a practical approach to challenging problems. This allows me to optimize and streamline processes in a meaningful way for both internal teams and clients.

Outside of work I love spending time with my family and engaging in all things sports. A Toronto native, I love supporting the Leafs, Raptors and Blue Jays. I'm dedicated to practicing my golf swing, which admittedly, has room for improvement!
